

MAYOR OF CORK
IN FIFTY FIRST
DAY OF STRIKELast Appeal To Take Food
Made MacSwiney In Jail.

REFUSES OFFER

Official Now So Weak
That Talking Is Impossible.

London, Oct. 2.—A last appeal to accept food was made to Terence MacSwiney in Brixton jail early today by his physician. The doctor warned the hunger striking lord mayor of Cork that he was sinking fast and begged him to take nourishment.

MacSwiney was so weak that he could not even speak, merely shook his head.

The prisoner began the fifty first day of his hunger strike today.

Within easy reach of the patient there was again placed early today a veritable banquet—no rich and heavy food but tempting bits of nourishment just sustaining enough to give him a new lease of life and not too heavy to disrupt his system. For the patient is so close to death that the slightest exertion even of his masticating organs would bring on a coughing spell or a heart attack that would rip off the thin thread by which his spirit is clinging to life.

MacSwiney's endurance has been to be looked upon as a twentieth century miracle by the whole scientific world of Europe. All the reports and rumors that he was being clandestinely fed have been definitely exploded not only by unbiased visitors to his cell who spend long hours with him in close observation but by the unimpeachable word of famous doctors. The last of these to make the positive statement that MacSwiney's fast was a "straight" one was Sir Norman Moore, noted specialist whose dictum dispelled the doubts even of the most skeptical.

Never since the lord mayor was first locked up in the historic Brixton jail has the atmosphere been filled with such virtual certainty that his death is but a few hours away.

RUMORS TELL WEIRD
TALES OF BRUTALITY
IN RUSSIAN CITYCity Of Lida the Scene
Of Ravages After Fighting.

Warsaw, Oct. 2.—Wild reports, not confirmed, are pouring in here about the last hours of bolshevist rule at Lida, the vital rail head captured by the Poles early this week. One version is that the division of soviet troops that surrendered the city murdered all the red commissaries. The commander of third soviet army is reported to have committed suicide.

Baronovitchi an important rail intersection, is said to have been captured by the Poles, whose cavalry is also reported to have reached Vilna.

Mobs are demonstrating in favor of immediate peace with Poland, the dispatch adds.

In view of repeated previous reports of 'riots' and 'reign of terror' in the former capital of Russia which were later proved to have been without foundation, the above dispatch may be taken with caution. Recent cable dispatches, however, have indicated that the food situation in Russia, especially in the big cities, is extremely grave and there has been said to be a general clamor for peace.

Columbus, O., Oct. 2.—Four New Yorkers were held by police today charged with operating a get rich quick machine. John Christoff, proprietor of a Columbus shoe shining stand, said he paid the four $3,450 for a "money making machine" which turned white slips of paper into $5 bills. The prisoners, he charged, made it do that while he watched.

Those arrested are Lewis Dochoff, 25, his wife, Mrs. Anna Dochoff, 17, Etton Naumoff, 28, and Vasil Georgavitch, all of New York City, who were preparing to take a train back to the big city when arrested. The men pleaded not guilty and each was held in $6,000 bail while Mrs. Dochoff was turned over to the juvenile authorities.

The fugitives and the crimes charged against them are listed as J. Flood, James Wardell, alias Wallace, Albert Lopez, Raymond Ramonet, William Morrison, alias Coleman and J. PLANTER OF BOMBSuspect Under Arrest
Declares Criminal Won't Be Caught.

New York, Oct. 2.—A man giving the name of Joscha Greenspan, who was arrested for loitering in a Brooklyn building, was said by police to have stated he knew the identity of persons responsible for the Wall street explosion.

Greenspan was sent to a hospital for observation while members of the bomb squad and agents of the department of justice began checking up his record and story.

Radical papers were said by the police to have been found in Greenspan's pockets when he was arrested and a search of his room in Brooklyn revealed more. Quizzed at police headquarters, Greenspan is said to have refused to say anything further than that he knew "who planted the bomb, but the police will never get him."

Edward F. Fischer, tennis player, who sent warnings of the Wall street disaster, today was committed to a sanitarium at Amityville, L. I. after he had been under observation at Bellevue Hospital for two weeks.

WOULD RELIEVE MAGNATES FROM
GAME'S CONTROLPlan On Foot To Place
It In Hands Of Public.

PLAN IS APPROVED

Representatives Of Public
Would Be Selected To Govern Game.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Establishment of a high tribunal of baseball that would take control of the game from the hands of magnates and managers and place it in the hands of men who would be considered as direct representatives of the public is being urged today as the most feasible plan keeping spottless the national game which is now in the process of being cleaned up. Four of the leading ball clubs of the major leagues have approved the plan which A. D. Lasker, a stockholder in the Chicago Cubs is credited with having originated.

Already the names of some of the Nation's most famous men have been brought to the front as possible members of this "super court" of baseball. Among them are William Howard Taft, former president; Gen. John J. Pershing, General Leonard Wood, William G. McAdoo, Senator Hiram Johnson and Judge K. M. Landis.

The proposed plan would establish a tribunal of three members whose authority over all baseball matters would be absolute. They three would be paid salaries higher than any received by any man in organized baseball. They would unreviewable authority over presidents of all leagues, club owners, players and every other person, act or thing connected with the national game.

The four major league clubs that have approved the plan are the New York Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Chicago Cubs and the Chicago White Sox.

Lasker is actively engaged in an effort to obtain approval of the plan from other baseball magnates. He will ask the minor leagues to come in also when the national association holds its annual meeting in Kansas City.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Eli Pfaltzer, president of the Consumers' Packing Company, entered a plea of guilty before Judge Evan A. Evans in the United States district court here, where he and seven other officials of the firm were on trial for conspiracy to use the mails to defraud.

Pfaltzer is the second defendant to plead guilty, Louis Davis, a fiscal agent, having entered his plea several days ago. Pfaltzer's plea followed testimony given by Walker R. Flint, head of the blue sky law department of the Illinois secretary of state's office and by Carmelius J. Doyle, Springfield, Ill., attorney.

Mr. Flint testified that Pfaltzer had filed an affidavit with the secretary of state to show that the gross profits of the Consumer's Packing Co. up to March 16, 1918, were $30,085, and the net profits $16,755.

MAYOR OF TOLEDO
INVITES PROBE OF
VICE CANDIDATESWould Have Civic Organizations Undertake Task.

Toledo, O., Oct. 2.—Mayor Cornell Schreiber today issued a blanket invitation to all civic organizations, including the Toledo Rotary Club, to name committees to ascertain the truth about vice conditions in Toledo and to thoroughly investigate the police department to see if it is "halted" as charged. The mayor's invitation follows the meeting yesterday of the Rotary Club at which plans for recalling the mayor in case he refuses to remove Saylor Director Chris Wall and Police Chief Henry J. Herbert were outlined.

The Rotarians flayed Wall and Herbert for their apparent sheltering of criminals here.

"If these men have evidence that Mayor Schreiber is doing anything to remove anyone on hearsay," said Mayor Schreiber, "it is funny they never submit it. I do not care to remove anyone on hearsay."

WOMEN EXERCISE DELAYED RIGHTS

Their First
Presidential Vote

No longer do mothers, wives, and daughters have to sit at home on Election Day while the men folk are away casting their vote at the election polls. For the first time in the history of the nation women are voting to determine who shall be President of these United States made possible by the passing of the Federal Suffrage amendment.

It was at first thought when women were given the privilege of voting many of them would not exercise their right. But scenes at the polls proved this supposition false.

WINTHROP MURRAY CRANE
FORMER GOVERNOR DIESEx-Senator and Former Governor Of Massachusetts Succumbs To General Breakdown At Age of 67, Early Saturday at His Home.

Dalton, Mass., Oct. 2.—Winthrop Murray Crane, ex-United States Senator, former governor of Massachusetts, and leader in the national councils of the Republican party, died today at the family home here, where he was born 67 years ago.

Members of his family and Dr. Bruce W. Paddock of Pittsfield, were at the bedside of the famous statesman when the end came. Death was caused by a general breakdown and heart trouble. In the words of Senator Crane himself "something gave out."

Statements of tribute to the memory of Senator Crane came from all sections of the country today. The tribute of Governor Coolidge was "a great man has passed."

The illness of the former senator began on July 31 at Northampton, Mass., when he collapsed previous to the ceremonies notifying Gov. Coolidge of his nomination as Republican nominee for vice-president.

Senator Crane had undergone considerable strain at the Republican national convention a few weeks before and standing in the hot sun before Gov. Coolidge's house he collapsed. He rallied quickly, however. Returning to his home here in an automobile, the senator suffered five or six fainting spells followed by more the next day. He insisted on going to the office of his paper mills as usual, but for days after that suffered from sinking spells during some of which he lost consciousness.

Senator Crane's last public appearance was on August 13, when he attended a gathering at the Pittsfield park club to hear Chauncey M. Depew in his "Friday, the Thirteenth" address.

HARDING ADDRESSES
RURAL AUDIENCE ON
INLAND QUESTIONSSenator Speaks To Thousands
Of Farmers

GIVES FARM POLICY

Touches On Subject Of Development Of Inland Water Ways.

Wilson's Corner, Ohio, Oct. 2.—Here at the junction point of three Ohio counties, Franklin, Madison and Union Senator Warren Harding today addressed a crowd of a thousand farmers and their women folk who come by motor and wagon from miles around to attend an old fashioned picnic and flag raising.

The senator and Mrs. Harding motored from Marion, fifty odd miles away, through clear cold weather to attend the celebration. It was a distinctly a rural audience and Senator Harding addressed them on topics relative to rural community life, expansion on his agricultural policies as outlined in previous speeches.

Senator Harding said his agricultural policy was broadly divided into three phases:

1.—Do all that is possible to make prosperous the land owning farmer and oppose the menace of increasing tenantry.

2.—Improve the means of distribution of farm products and encourage co-operative buying and marketing on the part of farmers.

3.—Protect American farm products against influxes of cheaper foreign products by a properly adjusted protective tariff.

"It is also the nation's business," he said "to concern itself with the social welfare of farm life. We want a prosperity for the American farmer which will allow him to bid for normal farm labor."

Women Do Work.

"This year in many sections of the United States girls, mothers and aged women have worked in the fields, and much of the work has been too hard to be consistent with wholesome maternity and American standards."

Development of inland waterways, not in competition to the railroads, but as a co-partner in solving transportation problems, was urged by Senator Harding.

"We must," he said, "turn our backs on the system of pork barrel appropriations and under a national budget system make our expenditures according to the counsel of a proper commission, whose aim will be to develop a true national system of inland waterways."

Educational conditions in rural communities, too, must be improved the senator said.

"We must face the fact," he observed, "that illiteracy is twice as common in the country as it is in the city, and that the opportunity for country boys and girls to get a high school education is all too limited."

"While we have boasted of America being a melting pot," he concluded, "we have sadly neglected the furtherance of education which is the true bulwark against extreme radicalism."

Senator Harding will motor back to Marion late today.

To Financial Readjustment.

Brussels, Oct. 2.—Reconstruction of the devastated areas of France was declared as absolutely essential to the financial readjustment not only of France but of Europe at large, by French financial experts in a report submitted to the economic conferences in session here.

The report of the American experts pointed out that the United States also had suffered financially from the war though the report added that America's finances were on a relatively solid basis.

The various committees were busy today drafting their reports for the final debate.

STEAL ONE MILLION

Mysterious Stealing Of Goods From Pier
Is Solved.

New York, Oct. 2.—The wife and four children of Angelo Salomone, Brooklyn "trucking king," a millionaire, were arrested early today and through them the police believe they have discovered the key to mysterious pier thefts totalling a million dollars in the last six months.

The scene and circumstances of the arrests recall pages from Dickens. Three detectives working on the pier robberies were passing the Salomone garage and stables on Inlay street, Brooklyn, when they heard a knot hole they saw Mrs. Salomone taking bolts of cloth out of a case and handing them to her four boys, ranging in age from nine to 15. The work went on silently. The youngsters seemed well trained and responded to their mother's every cue. Not a word was spoken. When the woman had completed her job she gave a sign and the boys, laden with mysterious looking packages, tiptoed over a bridge to the rear of the garage to their apartment, followed by the woman.

As they started to enter, the arms of the law reached out of the shadows of the dawn and the mother and her five boys found themselves under arrest. They promptly confessed, according to the police. The thefts included articles of all kinds, notably typewriter materials and manure sets. Entering the apartment the detectives found on all sides neatly piled up stolen goods, valued at $30,000. Salomone lying ill from pneumonia in his home, was also placed under arrest.

She had been living with Demore, it is said, and wanted to marry Schultz, who, she says, suggested the attempt to kill Demore and throw his body into Lake Erie. Demore is recovering in a hospital here.

Washington, Oct. 2.—There was a decrease of $237,815,995 in the public debt of the United States during the month of September, according to an announcement by the treasury department today. The total gross debt of the country September 30, had been reduced to $24,087,356,125.

This decrease was due, it was announced, to the fact that the government no longer was paying out funds for operation of the railroads and other essentially war expenditures. The statement today it was pointed out, bore out the prediction of Secretary Houston that the entire receipts of the country now are considerably in excess of the ordinary disbursements.

WANT BETTER SCHOOL FACILITIES FOR COUNTY PUPILS COMING INTO XENIA

That the Xenia board of education should either provide better high school facilities for the benefit of country pupils coming into this city, or else turn over the city high school to the county, was the consensus of opinion of members of the Greene county board of education at a meeting held here Friday afternoon.

Two petitions signed by residents of Xenia township and of Spring Valley township, asking that the county board take up the matter of adequate high school provisions for county children in this city, were presented at the meeting. The discussion that followed led to the expression that the city board should establish better school facilities for in-coming county high school pupils at once or turn over the high school to the county to operate.

Citizens of Xenia agreed last April that the present city high schools is inadequate when they voted for a bond issue to erect a new school building. Inflated prices existing at present has caused the city board to hesitate in erecting the building at once, and since the start of the present school term, children have been taken care of in temporary structures and rented buildings apart from the main school.

At present pupils coming in from the county outside of Xenia city school district are assessed a tuition fee of about $5,000 a year. Residents of the county claiming the local high school facilities are inadequate base their pleas to the county board to interfere with the city board in the matter on the fact that city schools will receive a certain percent of money for their support from the county, through the new school taxing law. The amount is said to aggregate $10,000 from this source. In case the proposal of the county board to take over the city high school met with the approval of the city board, it would mean that city students would have to pay tuition to the county for the privilege of attending high school here.

A joint meeting of the county and Xenia township boards of education will be called at an early date and a joint meeting of these boards with the city board of education will be asked for in the near future. At that time the proposition of furnishing better high school facilities immediately, and not several years from now, which is what the county residents want, will be threshed out.

J. W. Santmyer, president of the city board of education was surprised at the expression of the county board at Friday's meeting, when informed of the fact. He declined to make an immediate statement in regards to the action of the county board.

County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman said Friday that the opinion of the county board as expressed in Friday's meeting is an effort to satisfy the demands of county residents for better high school facilities for which they feel they are helping pay, and that the action is not aimed at a split between the school units. "I feel that the interests of the city and county are so nearly related that I would not favor any move that would not lead toward the very best of co-operation," said Mr. Aultman.

MOTORIST RUNS DOWN TEN YEAR OLD GIRL AT HOME ON FRIDAY

A woman motorist, whose car knocked down and ran over ten year old Alice Philby, a pupil at the O. S. & S. O. Home, fracturing a bone in her foot, on the Home grounds Friday afternoon, drove on without stopping to see how seriously the child was hurt.

The car was passing the schoolhouse just after the children were dismissed. It is supposed that the driver of the car became confused as the children were running across the driveway, and did not notice the little girl. Doctors attending the meeting of the Medical and Surgical Consulting staff were still at the institution and Dr. B. R. McClellan brought the little girl to the hospital where an X-Ray examination of the injured foot was made, and the fracture set.

OPEN SEASON ON WOODCOCK STARTS

The open season on woodcock started Friday, October 1, in Ohio and will continue until November 30.

the squirrel season open. It is not likely local hunters will pay much attention to the birds at least until the squirrel season closes Oct. 20.

REAL VOTING SCHOOL FEATURES MEETING OF LOCAL TEACHERS

A real voting school featured the meeting of teachers of the Xenia township schools, held in this city Friday afternoon, that took up many features important to teachers, pupils and patrons.

In the voting school a large ticket representing all parties was presented and the teachers became thoroughly enlightened in the art of voting either the straight or mixed ticket. This work will be taken into the township schools as a part of the subject of civics.

In an active discussion participated in by the teachers, the subjects of "community spirit and the teacher's part," "shall we emphasize politeness in our teaching," "the dead-line teacher and the energizing teacher," and "school hygiene." Teachers of the township will be granted the privilege of visiting the demonstration school at Old Town in the near future. The demonstration school this year is in charge of Miss J. Helen Johnson, who was demonstration teacher in Colorado last year and came here highly recommended.

District Superintendent D. H. Barnes announced to teachers at the meeting that Harry Smith, the new music and manual training teacher will begin his duties in the schools Monday morning. With the addition of manual training to the domestic science already taught, the township schools are now well equipped, the domestic science department solving the problem of "hot lunch" for the district schools.

It was also announced by the Superintendent that the convention of the "South Western Ohio Teachers' Association," at Cincinnati, October 29 and 30, will be held on the same dates as the convention of the "Central Ohio Teachers' Association" at Columbus. The teachers are privileged to attend either.

Superintendent Barnes is secretary of county and district superintendents' section at Columbus at which meeting at least 5,000 teachers will be in attendance. Similar township teachers' meetings will be held in Spring Valley township and in Sugar Creek township next week.

185 times - no difference!

Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, famous concert soprano, has made this test 185 times. 185 public audiences, in 185 cities, have heard her compare her voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. No one, out of a total of more than 100,000 listeners, has been able to tell when Miss Shepherd was singing, and when the New Edison—except by watching her lips.

4,000 similar tests of direct comparison, made by over fifty other celebrated vocalists and instrumentalists, have given this same result.

The New Edison is perfect realism achieved!

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Perfect realism is your one vehicle to the inner joys of music which you crave.

Mr. Edison spent three million dollars in the research work which gave the New Edison perfect realism. He did this in order that the phonograph might transcend its former limitations and (here we quote Mr. Edison's own words), "bring into every American home, music so realistic and so perfect in its rendition as to be an unending source of benefit and pleasure."

The instruments which proved this perfect realism

ism in Miss Shepherd's 185 tests were all exact duplicates of the original Official Laboratory Model on which Mr. Edison spent his three million dollars. DEMANDS ON COAL DEALERS ARE HEAVY DURING COLD SPELL

Xenia people depending on coal for heating purposes were thankful for a bright sun that took the chill out of the air Saturday.

Xenia coal dealers during the last few days suddenly swamped by a demand for coal rather unusually heavy for this time of year due to the cold snap of the last few days, were almost stripped of all fuel by the excessive demand.

The warmer weather that developed Saturday is expected to relieve the situation considerably and give coal dealers a little more leeway in preparing to fill winter coal orders. Small orders have been requested of the dealers during present cold snap by people who have not yet laid in their winter supply of coal, and found some heat necessary.

That only about 35 to 40 percent of coal users in this city have their winter coal in the cellar, is the statement of one local coal dealer. An existing shortage in cars, which however, is somewhat improved now, has prevented many from securing their winter coal. Coal being shipped to the lakes has also lessened the domestic supply of both coal and cars. There is now being shipped 38 percent of all coal to the lakes. This demand is scheduled to stop November 15, but dealers say it will be December 1.

Before they can secure an adequate supply of coal. The car supply, which is now but 50 percent of normal will then be much improved, it is hoped. In the meantime coal has soared again, and people anxious to buy coal are finding that the price is considerably higher. Increased wages, to miners, is the excuse used by the producing company for adding another $1 a ton on coal at the mines, which with a freight rate which runs from $1.20 a ton on Ohio coal to $1.38 a ton on West Virginia coal, makes a considerable addition to the price when it reaches here. Best grades are now selling for $11 and $12.

Should the car supply suddenly open up now, it is likely that little coal could be secured by local dealers. It is said, because of the miners strike existing in West Virginia and in Ohio. While Ohio miners have been out for only about two weeks, the West Virginia mines have been tied up by the strike for about six weeks.

Considering the statement recently published in a coal dealers trade magazine, asserting that in some cases miners and loaders, receive from $500 to $600 a month, the fact that they are again striking for more money, is a move that will probably fail of popularity with consumers here.

HURRAH FOR THE POLES—AND GENERAL WRANGEL IS MAKING GOOD TOO.

A dispatch from Warsaw says Adolph Joffe, head of the Russian Soviet delegation in the peace negotiations at Riga, has received instructions from Moscow to accept all the conditions laid down by Poland for peace, however hard they may be, excepting only those compelling Soviet Russia to partially or totally disarm her Red army.

This dispatch, following the persistent efforts of the Soviet delegation at Riga, at first by bluff and then by sweeping concessions, to accelerate a settlement with the Poles, appears corroborative of reports of desperate conditions behind the Bolshevik lines. Undoubtedly, however, the rapid development of the operations of Generals Wrangel and Makno in South Russia is the chief factor in bringing the Bolsheviks to the decision to such through a peace at any price with the Poles.

The Russian ten-day ultimatum virtually has been dropped and probably nothing more will come of it. M. Joffe, head of the Soviet peace delegation, admitted in a private conversation that the Bolsheviks would not insist upon an answer within the time specified nor withdraw their proposals at the expiration of the period.

A wireless dispatch from Moscow says that Poland has received large supplies from the Allies through Danzig; England, the message declares, sent seven steamships loaded with munitions and three tanks and twelve small vessels with provisions, while the United States sent six ships. From France two ships arrived with more than 1000 infantry and fifteen tanks, the message says.

No volunteers have been sent to Poland from the United States during the present Polish-Russian war. France and England have sent officers and munitions; but, so far as reported, no troops.

As a counterpart of this good news of the success of the Poles against the Russian Reds, comes the word of a great victory on the part of a portion of General Wrangel's army against the Bolsheviks. A special cable dispatch from a correspondent with General Wrangel's army, via Constantinople, September 29th, says: The Red thirteenth army defending Alexandrovsk has ceased to exist. It succumbed to one of those brilliant encircling cavalry movements that are a distinguishing feature of this war. The Reds had concentrated their thirteenth army behind their lines as a flying column with which to break through Wrangel's front at the psychological moment. Anticipating this attack Kytipov sent all his cavalry in a wide loop far around into the rear of the thirteenth army and literally lassoed it, taking ten thousand prisoners, fifty guns, beside armored trains, airplanes and all kinds of war material. There are no more Bolsheviks on the northern front. The Reds have evacuated Elatynoslav and are everywhere in full retreat.

It will be remembered that Premier Lloyd George, of England, quite vigorously opposed France siding in with General Wrangel's movements in Russia, but the result of these movements appear now as almost the best good news we have had for months over the distracted condition of affairs in Russia.

The morale of Red troops on that part of the front is badly shaken. Bolshevik prisoners declare that the Red commanders have given up hope of arresting Wrangel's advance. They report that at a recent meeting of Soviet chiefs, general depression prevailed, and one of the commissaries broke out with the words: "The whites will soon be in Kharkov once more."

Since the foregoing dispatch was filed, Kharkov has been captured by the forces of General Makno, co-operating with General Wrangel.

THE AMERICAN LEGION.

With an organization of 9,800 functioning posts and with more than 2,000,000 in its membership, the American Legion may well point with pride to the rapidity of its growth and to the universal appeal of the organization as a patriotic body that knows neither "East nor West, North nor South, Jew or Gentile, Protestant nor Catholic, Capital nor Labor, Employer nor Employed, Republican nor Democrat." This is, indeed, the great thing about the organization; and while its announced purpose is to "keep out of politics," it is fortunate that the organization sees a higher meaning in the word "politics," for, in the larger sense, the organization is in politics in the interest of those things that will make the common heritage of the members a better and more hopeful place for all to live in.

It is for this reason that the organization has served a telling notice on those who would overthrow by violent class revolution the institutions the legionaries risked their lives to protect. And in thus rallying to the support of America the legion is not engaged in any academic lip service to the country, since, by reason of the accidents and incidents of the great war, we possess in these 2,000,000 men a larger body of alert citizens, familiar at first hand with the physical, social industrial and political conditions of the Old World, than has ever been the case in the history of the country. This very signal and significant fact is often forgotten.

There is nothing of mere phrase-making, therefore, in the view of the legion that the country they fought for is worth supporting along the familiar lines of its institutions and its destiny, since they know just wherein and why the American lot has "fallen in pleasant places." They all did their bit by their country manfully in war, and that they are continuing their vital interest in peace means everything for the future.—Public Ledger.

JUST AN "INCIDENT" IN THE LIFE OF THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR THE VICE PRESIDENCY.

Massachusetts learned the quiet courage of their Governor, Calvin Coolidge, many years ago; the country discovered it with a vast breath of relief and gratitude on the occasion of the police trouble Boston. There were differing opinions as to the course that the Governor should take in that crisis, as there always are. Men came to him with suggestions of compromise; one deputation made a final protest even as the proclamation was on his desk waiting to be signed.

"If you issue that proclamation, Governor Coolidge," they said, "you will probably destroy the Republican party in Massachusetts; you will certainly make it impossible for yourself ever to hold any other public office."

The Governor looked up at them, pen in hand: "Perhaps you are right," he said quietly, and promptly affixed his signature.

To millions of Americans that crisis was their first introduction to the Governor of Massachusetts. They wondered perhaps whether it constituted his only claim to confidence, whether he had happened merely to be sitting at the cross-roads when Fate walked by and touched him. But those who had known him longer understood that his whole career had been a preparation for that test.

"Do the day's work," he had said to the Senate. "If it be to protect the rights of the weak, whoever objects, do it. If it be to help a powerful corporation better to serve the people, whatever the opposition, do that. Expect to be called a standpat, but don't be a standpat. Expect to be called a demagogue, but don't be a demagogue. Don't hesitate to be as revolutionary as science. Don't hesitate to be as reactionary as the multiplication table."

The police situation was merely part of the day's work. The fact that powerful forces were arrayed on either side, exerting their utmost pressure, did not change the situation. Duty was clear. He did it, and the whole nation responded instinctively to his voice and act.

The truth of the old saying, "what goes up must come down," although for a time threatened by profiteers, is again proven by the recent drop in prices.

Austria wants American money to ward off Bolshevism. What will she do after that is gone.

Trotsky is reported as having said that Soviet Russia wants "peace with Poland" so badly that she is willing to fight for it. But probably, what he meant was, "piece of Poland."

And now a Norwegian by the name of Skolp is said to have discovered America 16 years before Columbus, but as it seems a little late for a congressional investigation, "Chris," by virtue of a better publicity agent, must still hold the place of honor.

It is easy to see what side of the political argument, Bryan is on—the outside.

The ex-Kaiser was at least generous enough to leave the German national debt untouched when he abdicated.

If it isn't one it's the other. With the ice bill off our hands the coal bill arrives.

Senator Borah seems disinclined to continue actively in the political campaign and we wonder what the astute senator is up to now.

The time is ripe for another Cox charge against the Republican party, and we suppose he is merely waiting for Halloween to furnish the pumpkin head.

WHAT YOU WILL LOSE
A great many women who are trying a course of diet in order to reduce, write to me to find out how much they may expect to lose. It's rather hard to be able to tell this. The whole reduction system has been so perfectly worked out by food experts that it is possible to tell—but, in individual cases it depends upon the amount of food that is eaten.

For instance when making these experiments, the food experts put their patients on a scientific diet. They are allowed so many calories of food a day—and no more. The usual reduction diet is supposed to be 1,000 calories of food less every day than the woman has been eating. Five hundred calories are said to produce two ounces of flesh—on 500 less a day, the woman should lose two ounces; on a diet of calories less than she usually takes, she would lose four ounces a day, or a little less than two pounds a week—and that is the safest amount to reduce.

But the woman herself cannot bother to measure out her food exactly so when I give caloric values, I usually give them for an average serving of food. If you take big helpings, you will really be cheating yourself out of your diet. You can tell fairly exactly how you are dieting however for if you find, after the fourth week, that you are not losing fast enough you may be pretty sure that you are making your helpings of food a little too generous—and that to lessen the calories you must not fill your plate so full.

A Daily Reader.—If that wrinkle between your eyes, comes from a bad habit of frowning, you can help much in getting rid of it by putting a piece of court plaster over it after you have first smoothed it out. Then every time you frown you wrinkle the plaster so it annoys you and reminds you to stop frowning—and the will power you exercise will do the curing. However a wrinkle between the eyes usually comes from eye strain, so you had better consult an oculist before you report to the plaster.

Betty and Ruth.—The young lady who is five feet three inches weight 149 should weigh 122 pounds; the other one should weigh the same as her extra inch just balances the difference in age. You can reduce by eating less starchy foods, like pie crust. If you stop eating white bread and take to bran or graham bread, you will be able to note some change in weight. Gluten bread is better still, as all starch is taken from the flour.

PAINTS PICTURE OF EARLY LIFE OF SEN. HARDING FRIDAY

Warren G. Harding wasn't afraid of work when he was a boy any more than in later life, according to the Rev. S. M. Smith of Bowersville, who was reared on a farm adjoining the little country place where the Republican candidate for president spent his youth.

The Rev. Mr. Smith told about his youthful acquaintance with Harding at a meeting which was held under the direction of the Greene County Women's Republican Club in the assembly room of the court house, Friday evening.

Senator Harding's father was a country doctor, and the Rev. Mr. Smith's father was a blacksmith. While Senator Harding is eight years the senior of the minister, the latter recalls a great deal about the former's youthful life. Harding, he said, did any kind of work that he could get. He painted houses and barns, did many odd jobs that the neighbors wanted done, and finally found his life work when he became a newspaper reporter in Marion. His next step was to buy the Marion Star with some friends, and his habit of hard work and perseverance won him success in that line.

He landed Mr. Harding as a clean cut statesman, and declared that he had always been a "dry" advocate.

Judge H. L. Smith of this city, followed the Rev. Mr. Smith with a forceful talk on Republican principles. His theme was "Why I am a Republican."

Mrs. A. E. Faulkner, president of the Greene County Women's Republican Club, presided at the meeting. There was a large attendance of women.

TWO ELECTROCUTED IN DAYTON FRIDAY

Two Dayton men met instant death Friday by electrocution. William Colley, 18, an employee of the Dayton Power and Light Company, being killed when he came in contact with a wire carrying 6,000 volts at the Miller's Ford plant and Howard Holten, 44, lather, being electrocuted at the Miami Paper plant at West Carrollton when a stick he was holding touched a high tension wire, causing 33,000 volts to pass through him.

Colley was a painter and was standing on a stepladder near a switch-box when his ladder slipped. In falling his hand touched a switch, the current passing through his body, and out his left foot into an iron beam.

RUMORS OF WAR.

One day the Russians hunt their holes, pursued by fierce, triumphant Poles; the next the Poles are on the run, spurred on by Russian sword and gun. And, as I dope myself for gout, I wonder what it's all about. There's trouble brewing everywhere, and warlike rumors fill the air. I thought, when closed the three-ring war, "Peace is the thing we're yearning for; the whole blamed world is sick of gore, and weary of the cannon's roar, and tired of human tears and groans, and of the sight of bleaching bones. The nations all would speed the plow and set the hen and milk the cow, pursue the gentle arts of peace, and bid the yawping captains cease." But now the Pole pursues the Russ and makes a most unseemly fuss; and now the Russ pursues the Pole, and shoots him with a ton of coal; wherever men infest the map, some tribes are itching for a scrap. And as I feed myself with kraut, I wonder what it's all about. Why can't the blame fool nations meet with friendly hearts in concord sweet, and settle all their silly rows, and then go home to milk the cows? Why does the Pole pursue the Russ, and shoot him with a blunder-bus? Why does the Russian swat the Pole? Has he no higher, nobler goal? Why don't they meet with friendly grins, and shake the dice to see who wins?

ing touched a high tension wire, causing 33,000 volts to pass through him. He died within a short time. Holten was killed when a stick he was holding touched a wire carrying current of the Cincinnati and Dayton traction company at Hamilton, the current passing through his right arm and out his left foot into an iron beam.

ALLIGATOR GIRL FEATURE OF SHOW

The Police and Firemen's benefit carnival to be given by the K. G. Barkroot Shows, in the Dodds' Addition, next week for the benefit of the police and firemen's pension fund, is expected to be one of the biggest attractions of its kind ever to play here. The police and firemen's fund will receive five percent of the total receipts of the shows while here, and will also benefit by receiving 25 percent of the money on the "most popular girl" contest. Entrants are now being received for this contest, and the girl who secures the most pennies for votes will be given a diamond ring.

One of the principal attractions of the Barkroot shows is Betty the Alligator girl, and her mother. She is said to be the strangest girl ever born to live her flesh being like that of the reptile she so closely resembles. Betty is 24 years old and has been on exhibition for 23 years of that time. She neither walks nor talks but crawls around on her hands and knees. She was born in southern Georgia and has been with the Barkroot shows for the last four years. This is her first appearance in this city.

Other attractions that feature the coming week of safety are "Through the Falls," an attraction with plenty of thrills, "Mrs. Webb's big circus side show," with Johnnie Webb who is 11 years old and weighs 509 pounds and his "little sister" Mary, 9 years old who weighs 317 pounds.

Dixieland with colored singers and dancers is another popular attraction of the week. The Barkroot shows will arrive here Sunday about 1:30 over the Pennsylvania lines from Springfield, where they played this week. There will be 18 cars in the train and the shows will be immediately gotten in order for the big opening Monday night.

NO REDUCTION DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Official confirmation of press dispatches from Detroit, announcing that there would be no reduction in the price of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars, has been received by F. C. Cooper, the Dodge Brothers agent in this city. A telegram from C. W. Matheson, acting general sales manager to the local dealer, reads:

"Dodge Brothers policy has ever been to give full value for the price asked. There will be no reduction in the present prices of Dodge Brothers motor cars. Newspaper reports to the contrary are absolutely untrue."

"Dodge Brothers announcement was no surprise to me," said Mr. Cooper. "In fact it is only a substantiation of Dodge Brothers business principles. At no time have they ever demanded an excess amount for their product. As in the past they will continue in the future to demand a fair return for their efforts."

"The mere fact that the demand for Dodge Brothers motor cars is still greater than the supply, despite the great expansion program at the factory, has absolutely nothing to do with the decision to continue the present prices. In marketing their cars Dodge Brothers have never made a point of price and will never sacrifice the quality of their product to enter price competition.—Adv.

MEMORIAL TO BE PLACED IN HOME MEETING DECIDES

A plan to place in the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, some memorial to Dr. Warren C. Hewitt, who for nearly eighteen years gave his energies to the preservation of health among the children at the institution was initiated at the fourteenth annual meeting of members of the Medical and Surgical Consulting Staff of the Home which was held Friday.

Dr. W. A. Galloway, dean of the staff, A. C. Messenger, the secretary and W. H. Finley, were appointed on a committee to develop the plan.

The doctors also appointed a committee consisting of Drs. W. H. Finley, R. H. Grube and Reed Madden, to make arrangements for hospital facilities at the home for employees of the institution.

Dr. R. C. Longfellow of Toledo, retired as dean of the staff and his place was filled by the election of Dr. W. A. Galloway of this city. Dr. A. C. Messenger was re-elected secretary of the staff, a position which he has held for years. Drs. A. C. Shepard of Dayton, B. C. West of Dayton and Lawrence Shields of this city were elected members of the staff. Dr. Shepard was elected to the chair of nervous diseases, Dr. West to the chair of physical diagnosis and Dr. Shields to the chair of nose and throat.

The physicians inspected the institution and gave a favorable report of its condition. A number of children were examined and arrangements made for several operations. Major Frank Hendley of Cincinnati, of the United States Public Health Service, who was in Xenia on business was a guest of the staff at its meeting and the banquet which was served at 1 o'clock.

There were covers for 41 persons at three large round tables which were placed in state dining room and library. The decorations were particularly novel. A canopy of evergreen studded with incandescent lights ran the length of the room. The tables were centered with baskets of fruit and dahlias.

Dr. R. C. Longfellow of Toledo was the toastmaster and the following after dinner talks were made: Dr. A. C. Messenger, "A Retrospect," Dr. C. L. Patterson, of Dayton, "The New Citizen," Dr. B. R. McClellan "In Memoriam," a beautiful tribute to the life of the late Dr. W. C. Hewitt; Bernis Bryan of Dayton, president of the Home-board of trustees, "The Staff," Dr. A. P. Shepard, Dr. C. B. West of Dayton, new members of the staff and Dr. Hendley of Cincinnati also gave talks.

The Medical and Surgical Staff of the Home has been in existence fifteen years and has been a valuable aid to the resident physician. The doctors serve without compensation and give their services readily whenever they are needed.

PROTEST INCREASED SCHEDULED RATES

A petition protesting the action of the Washington Gas and Electric Company in presenting an increased schedule of rates with the State Public Utilities Commission for hot water heating, is being circulated in Washington, C. H.

The petition is the outgrowth of a meeting of thirty users of the hot water system held at the Mayor's office in protest to the new rate schedule, which if favorable to the Commission, will go into effect October 15. The petition complains to the Utilities Commission that the company is asking for practically a 100 per cent increase.

LAMB LEFTOVERS

Casserole of Lamb with Macaroni—Have the butcher remove the neck and cut into thick slices. Wipe and then roll in flour and brown.

Place in a saucepan and add four cups of boiling water. One-half dozen of onions, cut in slices, one carrot, cut in dice. Cook slowly until tender and then thicken the gravy slightly and season.

Cook the macaroni and then place two-thirds of the cooked macaroni in a casserole and then pour over the macaroni the prepared and cooked neck of lamb. Cover with the balance of the macaroni and sprinkle with fine breadcrumbs and three tablespoons of grated cheese.

Bake in a hot oven for thirty minutes.

Have the butcher bone and roll the shoulder and when ready to roast pack one-half cup of finely chopped onions into the meat and roast in the usual manner.

Creole Rice—Use the bones of the lamb for the stock. Now wash one cup of rice and place in a saucepan and cover with five cups of boiling lamb stock, adding three onions, one green pepper, two tomatoes, minced fine. Cook until the rice is soft and the water absorbed and then season the rice and add two tablespoons of bacon or ham drippings.

DISCOVERIES

Have the water bubbling hard when you drop in sweet potatoes and they will not be soggy.

A delicious flavor is given to dried peaches or apples by adding a little orange peel.

To wash white enameled furniture saturate a soft cloth with a solution of one pint of warm water in which a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved.

When making catchup or chili sauce everyone knows how long it takes to boil thick. Try boiling half usual time and stirring in cornstarch, previously heated with water, until of right consistency. Also good for preserves. Saves time, fuel and makes greater quantity.

In cooking green beans, instead of putting the bacon in raw and boiling it, wait until beans are almost done, then cut bacon in small cubes and fry it until done, cool slightly, pour over beans and finish cooking. You will find it requires about half as much bacon and has a much richer flavor.

A very neat and attractive way to embroider scallops is as follows: First do the embroidery on them in the ordinary way; then when this is finished cut around the edge and when the material is nicely trimmed off, buttonhole-stitch over the embroidered edge. This will cover all fringe or fraying of material and make a very firm scallop. It is also a good way to finish Hardanger work.

Washing Glasses—Put blueing in the water when washing glasses and it will add to their brilliance.

Whipping Cream—Get thin cream the day before you use it and put it right on the ice. It whips up just as nice as the heavy cream and is much cheaper.

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF RICHARD III OF ENGLAND
October 2nd, 1452

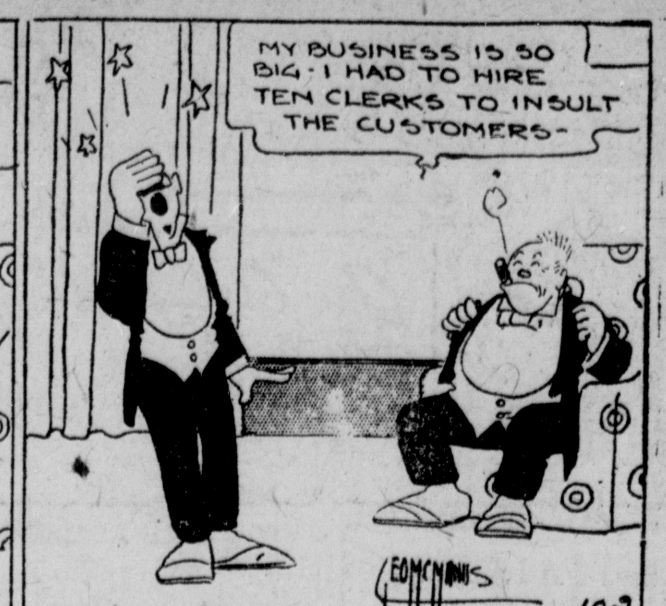

One of the most complex and romantic characters of English history is that of King Richard III. Charged with the murder of the two little Princes in the Tower and a host of other crimes, many of which he probably did not commit—Shakespeare makes of him a very thorough villain.

Richard III was the youngest son of Richard, Duke of York and was born in England in 1452. He was of no importance at all until he was about 18, when he supported his brother against the famous Warwick.

After the battle of Tewkesbury in which he took a prominent part he was supposed to have murdered the

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

KENNETH HEARS THE STORY CHAPTER 132.

"Went to church. Mother, Kenneth and I. Then we had dinner. No word of our changed life had been spoken. Mother excused herself to go down, and Kenneth and I were left alone."

"I told him the whole story, only keeping back to struggle I had at first, and the disagreeable incidents which I never had told anyone but Mary."

"You have been very brave, Zena," he said when I stopped after sketching my life after Father died. "I am very proud of you."

"But I am very different, Kenneth. I am not the same girl you knew. Sometimes I feel like pinching myself like the old woman whose skirts were cut as she slept, to see if it is really me, Zena Stewart, or some other girl masquerading under her name."

"You will marry me at once, won't you, Zena, and let me take you home to the ranch, away from all this hard work and anxiety?"

"Oh, I couldn't—so soon!"

"Why not, Zena?" his tone was so practical that I laughed.

"Oh, I couldn't—I'm not ready."

"Nonsense! What is there to get ready—clothes? What do they matter to two people who have decided to spend their lives together?"

As he asked the question there flashed over me the thought that I had not promised—that he had taken a great deal for granted. That he was a masterful man was easily seen.

"I didn't know that we had decided," I said lightly to ease the tension I felt.

"I did. You never would have allowed me to come had you not cared for me, and intended to marry me."

"But even so I must tell Mr. Claxton, and give him time to fill my place. He has been more than kind to me, and to Mother."

"Give him a week, and I shall not let you work all day during that time either. Tell him in the morning, and if he isn't decent enough to tell you at once you have very much exaggerated his kindness to you."

"A lot you know about it! He has been wonderful!"

"Hold on there! I shall be jealous if you talk of him any more. I'm surprised he hasn't discovered how sweet you were and married you out of hand."

I felt myself blushing and turned away. I some way felt my enthusiasm for Kenneth oozing from me as I remembered I must tell Frank Claxton, the man who had told me he loved me devotedly, that he would still hope that some day he would win me. I must tell him I was to marry a man I had not seen for years, of whom I really knew very little. What would he say? How would he accept the news I would take him in the morning?

"One would think from your expression you were sorry to tell this man," Kenneth remarked.

"I wonder if he will have trouble filling my place," I parried. "I have a good deal of responsibility. I am assistant to the manager in the bond department, as well as doing secretarial work for Mr. Claxton. It has taken me a long time to fit myself. It will be hard for them to take in someone unfamiliar with the work." Let the worry. You belong to me now."

I said no more, but thoughts of Frank Claxton, my work at the office remained with me all day, every moment of which was spent with Kenneth. He grew very lover-like, and impressed upon me the care he would give me, the beauty of the ranch. And as he included Mother in all his plans, I should have been very happy. That I wasn't I laid entirely to my worry over Mr. Claxton having trouble to fill my place.

It was with none of my usual breeziness that I entered the office that Monday morning and waited for Frank Claxton to appear. He was later than usual. The market had opened, and I didn't get an opportunity to speak to him until almost noon. Then I said:

"May I see you a few minutes, Mr. Claxton?"

"Certainly!" He turned so quickly looked so sharply at me, it took away my self-possession and I blurted out: "I must leave. Can you find another girl this week?"

As I looked at him I saw his face was white.

"Leave—why?"

"I am going to be married." I had given him the reason at once. I saw I had hurt him, but there was no other way—not with him.

"Married!" he exclaimed, while even his lips grew white. "May I ask who?"

"Please do, and let me tell you all about it," I interrupted.

To Be Continued.

the crown more secure, he had the two little princes murdered. But in this way he lost his throne, for the feeling against him became very strong and the hold of his rival, Henry Tudor strengthened. Richard met Henry at the Battle of Bosworth and was killed fighting physically brave to the very last.

He "played politics" so successfully that he was offered the crown on his brother's death and accepted it with feigned reluctance, a scene that is marvelously done in Shakespeare's play of Richard. To make his way to Springfield yesterday in a new roadster, collided with a truck at the dangerous Yalesville Culvert on the New Haven Highway in Meriden.

He landed in a field with his car wrecked, even to the steering post, but he and a friend who was his passenger escaped unharmed, except for scratches from the broken windshield. A passing automobile took them to Springfield, leaving Ruth's car to be hauled to a local garage.
